Pioneered prompt engineering as a content discipline at Meta, authoring the first prompt playbook. AI and product systems work has driven $300M+ in revenue. 20+ years shaping product language at scale, from Bank of America's Erica AI assistant (2021) to Meta's AI-generated ad content (2025-2026). Deep specialty in system prompt engineering, AI evaluation frameworks, and scaling content through AI while maintaining a high bar for voice and quality.

Professional experience

Staff Content Designer (IC6) and AI Lead, Meta, Remote September 2022–July 2026

- The only content designer selected to lead a cross-functional AI Pod at Instagram
- Built Meta's first system prompt playbook for content teams, with evaluation criteria adopted across product teams. AI-powered CTAs delivered a 75% jump in outputs rated high-quality. Formally embedded content design into prompt-writing workflows.
- Led the global ad label change from "Sponsored" to "Ad" across Meta's apps, navigating FTC compliance and cross-app coordination; cascaded into placement launches unlocking $100M+ in revenue
- Identified that no team owned Meta's ad CTA list; built a 1,000+ variant testing program, launched multi-variant CTA features and delivered Meta's first new default ad CTA in 20 years, collectively driving $200M+ revenue

VP, Senior Conversational AI Content Strategist, Bank of America, Remote September 2021–September 2022

- Created simple, smart AI experiences for the 24.2 million customers who talk to Bank of America's AI virtual assistant, Erica
- Winner of three Consumer Digital Global Recognition awards

Creative Content Lead / Senior Content Strategist, TIAA, Remote/Boston, MA June 2013–September 2021

- Led the writing for the launch of TIAA's automated assistant, Ask TIAA
- Led content for TIAA's first online enrollment experience for retirement plans and annuities

Online Copy Manager, Esurance, San Francisco, CA January 2008–January 2013

- Produced optimized content that boosted natural search performance by 43%
- Led the writing of the company's first mobile app and blog
